

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

The author gratefully acknowledges the assistance of individuals listed below on one or more aspects of ants discussed in this bulletin: Allen McIntosh (now retired), and J. A. Fluno, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Beltsville, Md.; H. T. Vanderford, Georgia State Board of Entomology, Atlanta; J. C. Moser, Southern Forest Experiment Station, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Alexandria, La.; Arnold Van Pelt, formerly with Tusculum College, Greeneville, Tenn.; Mary Talbot, Lindenwood College, St. Charles, Mo.; M. S. Blum, Louisiana State University, Baton Rouge; and M. H. Bartel, Kansas State University, Manhattan. He is indebted for the illustrations to Arthur D. Cushman and the now deceased Sarah H. DeBord. Some of the illustrations have been used previously (Smith, 1947, 1950).

Cover illustration: Worker of black carpenter ant Camponotus pennsylvanicus (DeGeer).