

References

- André, Er., 1881. Species des Hymenopteres d'Europe et Algerie—Les Fourmis. Gray, France.
- Chambers, V. H., 1955. Further Hymenoptera Records from Bedfordshire. Journ. Soc. Brit. Ent., 5: 126.
- Collingwood, C. A., 1953. Ants in Galloway. Ent. Rec., 65: 297-8.
- 1954. Ants in the South Midlands. Ent. Gazette, 6: 143-9.
- Donisthorpe, H., 1927. British Ants, 2nd Ed. London.
- Forel, A., 1920. Les Fourmis de la Suisse, 2nd Ed. Chaux-de-Fonds, Switzerland.
- O'Rourke, F. J., 1950. Distribution and General Ecology of the Irish Formicidae. Proc. Roy. Irish Acad., 52: 383-410.
- Staercke, 1944. Retouches sur quelques fourmis d'Europe. III, Autres Lasius. Ent. Ber., 11: 153-8.
- Stitz, H., 1939. Die Tierwelt Deutschlands, 37: 1—Formicidae. Jena.
- Wilson, E. O., 1955. A Monographic Revision of the Ant Genus Lasius. Bull. Mus. Comp. Zool., 113: No. 1. Cambridge, Mass., U.S.A.
- Yarrow, I. H., 1955. The British Ants allied to Formica rufa L. (Hym. Formicidae). Trans. Soc. Brit. Ent., 12: 1-48.

Appendix

Since this paper was written examples of L. rabaudi from Porthcawl and Horton in Glamorganshire taken by Mr. H. M. Hallett have been found in the National Museum of Wales and in the Leicester City Museum. The writer is grateful also to Mr. K. E. J. Barrett for an example from Surrey taken as recently as 1954.