

Figs. 10-17. 10, Propodeum of a worker with well developed propodeal spines; 11, Antennae with 12 segments (left) and 11 segments (right); 12, Reticulo-punctate sculpture on first gastral tergite (left) and smooth gastral tergite (right); 13, Propodeum with dentiform propodeal angles; 14, Mesosoma of a worker of L. andersoni; 15, Hind femur of a worker of L. silvestrii; 16, Oval (left-L. liebi) and kidney shaped (right-L. obliquicanthus) eyes of workers; 17, Propodeum and petiole of a worker of L. silvestrii.

shining and petiolar node is angulate in profile, with relatively sharp apex (Fig. 18) 16
 — Head largely or entirely sculptured (Fig. 22, right), surface feebly shining only between sculpture, or completely opaque; if head is partially smooth and shining, then petiolar node is rounded and